Subject Leadership and the New OFSTED Framework

Delivered by – Jonathan Bond

Aims of the Session

- To understand the new focuses from Ofsted and how they affect the subject leader role.
- To understand the new priorities of a subject leader, especially with regard to the curriculum.
- To be prepared for a new Ofsted inspection.

Content of the session

A new approach from Ofsted in their 2019 framework necessitates a new approach to subject leadership. This half day course outlines the new role of the subject leader and explores what leaders need to know about intent, implementation and impact in preparation for an Ofsted 'deep dive' in their subject. Ofsted's new approach to the area of leadership and management will also be explained in relation to the middle leader role. This is a timely course which will leave your subject leader well prepared for the new focus on the curriculum.
